

MERRY CHRISTMAS and HAPPY NEW YEAR

Jean-François JARD
Co-Founder & CEO Americas and Asia

As 2024 draws to a close and we approach the new year, it is my great privilege to reflect on the year behind us and look to the opportunities ahead. This past year has been one of growth, resilience, and meaningful progress. Together, we have diligently navigated challenges, achieving notable milestones and setting the stage for an exciting future.

One of our most significant achievements this year has been the expansion of our global presence, highlighted by our enhanced offerings in Oceania, which now include Australia and New Zealand, alongside our continued growth in Southeast Asia. Our increased activity in Singapore further marks this progress, a critical step in our strategy to better serve our growing client base in the region. Singapore will act as a regional hub for our business intelligence, compliance, and credit reporting services, enabling us to deliver high-quality insights and solutions to our clients across multiple industries and markets.

At the same time, our position in the Americas has grown stronger as we have enhanced our capabilities and expanded our network. These improvements enable us to meet the evolving needs of our clients and reinforce our leadership throughout the region.

Our core focus remains on risk assessment and providing fresh, verified information to empower our clients to make informed decisions. To this end, we've successfully strengthened our operations, improved efficiency, and expanded key initiatives by fostering positive client relationships and reinforcing our commitment to excellence. This success is a testament to the hard work and dedication of our team, our clients' trust, and the support of our partners. Your contributions are invaluable, and for that, I extend my sincere gratitude.

As we look to the year ahead, we remain steadfast in building on the momentum we have created. Our strategic priorities will center on enhancing value, embracing new opportunities, and deepening relationships across all sectors of our organization. With a shared vision and unwavering determination, I am confident that we will continue to uphold our mission and values, achieving even greater success in the future.

Thank you for being part of this journey. Together, let's make 2025 even brighter.

Sincerely,

Jean-François Jard
